Multiple awards for safety and quality: Hymer GmbH & Co. KG receives numerous awards at CMT 2018

Bad Waldsee, 16 January 2018 – With eight podium finishes in the readers' poll conducted by the trade magazines promobil and CARAVANING, Hymer GmbH & Co. KG has got the new year off to a flying start. The premium manufacturer has secured first place not once, but twice, with the Exsis-t and the ERIBA Touring. Hymer GmbH & Co. KG has also come out on top twice in the European Innovation Award: with the B-Class SupremeLine and its innovative SLC chassis in the Technology category, and with the HYMER DuoCar in the Overall Concept Van category. What's more, the new B-Class SupremeLine has also received the Safety Award from the Deutscher Camping-Club (DCC). The award ceremonies are held every year at the CMT trade show in Stuttgart.

Every year, the winners of the readers' polls conducted by the trade magazines promobil and CARAVANING are chosen at CMT. Hymer GmbH & Co. KG received multiple awards once again this year. With a total of eight top places, the premium manufacturer from Bad Waldsee achieved an even better result this year than in 2017. In the field of semi-integrated vehicles, the HYMER Exsis-t managed to hold on to the top spot once again, making this the third year in a row. The silver medal in the category has also gone to Hymer GmbH & Co. KG with the popular Van and Van S. Hymer GmbH & Co. KG's integrated vehicles are also hugely popular: the B-Class DynamicLine managed to come in second, and the Hymermobil ML-I third, for models costing up to 80,000 euros. In the over 80,000 euros category, the bronze medal has gone to the Hymermobil B-Class PremiumLine. Aside from motorhomes, one HYMERCAR and two ERIBA caravans also achieved extremely pleasing results. The ERIBA Touring took first place in the entry-level and compact class, whilst the ERIBA Nova SL came second in the luxury class. In the Compact Camper Van category, the HYMERCAR Sydney has taken third place.

Hymer GmbH & Co. KG was not only able to impress the readers of the popular trade magazines last year, but the jury of the European Innovation Award as well. For seven years now, this has been awarded by editors from the leading caravaning countries in Europe and honours innovations from across the industry. The international jury of experts presented the award in the "Overall Concept Van" category to the HYMER DuoCar concept vehicle. The SLC chassis, the chassis design that Hymer GmbH & Co. KG developed itself and which is currently the only one of its kind in the industry, has received the European Innovation Award in the Technology category.

PRESS RELEASE

There was a third award for HYMER's B-Class SupremeLine – the 2018 Safety Award from the Deutscher Camping-Club. The experts from the DCC were also impressed by the specially designed and weight-optimised SLC chassis. Thanks to the higher double floor, the water pipes and electronics are easy to access, whilst the lower centre of gravity ensures far better grip, making journeys even safer. However, the jury of experts was also impressed with the many safety systems that have been installed and the convenient solutions, such as the standard sliding shelf for gas bottles.

“We're absolutely delighted with the many awards we received in the promobil and CARAVANING readers' polls. They show us that we're able to impress our customers with the vehicles across all the divisions of our business. We're also particularly proud of the European Innovation Award and the DCC Safety Award for the B-Class SupremeLine and our new SLC chassis. With this unique design, we and our engineers have not only dared a great deal, we've now also won a great deal too. The awards make it clear that we're still on the right track with our developments, and that we're living up to our reputation as a driver of innovation in the industry,” explains Christian Bauer, Managing Director of Hymer GmbH & Co. KG
