Bad Waldsee / Düsseldorf, August 10, 2026 – “Confidence in Motion” is the promise under which Hymer presents itself at Caravan Salon 2026, brought to life by the new Hymer B-ML, which redefines confidence in travel, alongside a range of further innovations from the premium manufacturer’s portfolio.

The New Hymer B-ML – Confidence by Design.

At the centre of Hymer’s trade fair presence is the premiere of the new B-ML. Based on the Mercedes-Benz Sprinter, the flagship is available in the I 780, I 880 and T 780 layouts and stands for effortless, confident travel.

New headlights give the B-ML I a distinctive front-end signature with strong recognition value. Inside, Hymer relies on a holistic material concept that extends consistently from surfaces and joints to handles and fine details. Two carefully coordinated interior design worlds are available: Rochefort Walnut creates depth and sophistication, while Matara Teak conveys a light and airy atmosphere. An optional highlight is the functional designer kitchen featuring a double sink, a mineral-composite worktop and a gooseneck tap. The new exterior colour Tarmac Grey, a warm earthy shade with strong grey undertones, gives the B-ML a calm yet self-assured presence.

The flagship also sets benchmarks in self-sufficiency, with a 330-watt solar system, up to 360 Ah lithium battery capacity, a heated and insulated 200-litre fresh-water tank and an optional gas tank.

Hymer CrossOver – Built for the Unknown.

Two edition models are celebrating their market launch in Düsseldorf with a bold new look. The ML-T 570 CrossOver and the Grand Canyon S 600 CrossOver share a common DNA: standard all-wheel drive based on the Mercedes-Benz Sprinter, an LED light bar above the cab, underbody protection for the engine and water tank, all-terrain tyres and an autonomy package that enables up to ten days of off-grid living.

Their updated appearance follows the design language of the Venture S. The ML-T CrossOver comes in Tarmac Grey with an Obsidian Black cab and the Native Bamboo interior design world, while the Grand Canyon S CrossOver is finished in Slate Grey, features the Ivy Green interior design world and includes a new electric off-road step. Both models are optionally available with the Tallinn leather upholstery combination featuring distinctive diamond quilting.

Hymer Xperience – Ready to Go.

The Xperience family is expanding with three new additions. The ML-T 570/580 Xperience arrives in a new Stone Grey finish and comes equipped as standard with the 9G-TRONIC automatic transmission, the Mercedes-Benz Driver Assistance Package and the MBUX multimedia system. The Exsis-t 580 Xperience remains part of the range as a lightweight motorhome with a gross vehicle weight of under 3.5 tonnes, offering a package advantage worth £8,860.

The Fiat-based campervans are now consolidated under the Yellowstone model range, comprising five floor plans: 540, 600, 601, 602 and 640. Two edition packages, Xperience and Xperience Premium, are available, featuring equipment ranging from an automatic transmission and LED headlights to a fully digital cockpit and a 10-inch infotainment system. In addition, the range offers the largest fresh-water capacity in the camper van segment at 110 litres and, as an option, the widest bed available in a campervan pop-top sleeping roof.

Hymer B-MC in the Best-Selling 580 Layout

The new B-Class ModernComfort 580 layout combines a newly designed side kitchen and a redesigned comfort bathroom with a clearly structured interior layout. Details such as illuminated handle strips, an electric central locking system for the drawers and a plug-in worktop extension create a calm and highly functional cooking area, while the bathroom impresses with its fresh new look.

Further updates have been introduced across the entire B-MC model range, including the new Tarmac Grey exterior colour and the redesigned front end of the B-MC I featuring distinctive new headlights. Additional options include a hybrid hob, a premium sound system and a Smart Office storage solution.
